#Resist Donald Trump

A Guide to Advocacy/Activism for those looking to assist in Sustainable and Effective Activities in Concert with Individuals and Organizations who have the Influence and Resources to Make Substantive and Effective Gains

I've compiled page this to assist those who are looking to engage in non-violent and legal Advocacy/Activism in an attempt to mitigate the negative impacts of the presidency of Donald J. Trump and his regime. This document outlines what people who come to this page can expect over the period between now and the 2020 election.

The page will feature information about and access to different methods of engaging people in positions of power and authority who are working to lawfully mitigate and possibly end the presidency of Donald Trump. I offer my assistance as a former military employee (USAF) of the National Security Agency, and as someone who has engaged in Advocacy on an individual basis, and as part of nonprofit advocacy organizations. Be aware that no classified or sensitive information is in the proffer, but I am offering insights and advice based on training that I received as an Intelligence Specialist.

I will also offer instruction on how to be better collectors and consumers of publicly available information, and how to incorporate that information more effectively into your advocacy.

The presidency of Donald John Trump is a unique occurrence in American history. This is the first time that America has ever faced the likelihood that its chief executive representative, the president, may be under the control of the leadership of a nation hostile to the American people and their interests. Donald Trump's presidency represents more than just a danger to the survival of the United States as a sovereign nation. It represents an existential threat to all people and other creatures that live on planet Earth.

I will be posting documents, videos, and links for the purpose of educating those opposed to Donald Trump's presidency and the activities he appears to be engaging in on behalf of hostile foreign interests. Again, I am only urging legal and non-violent activities in opposition to Donald Trump and his regime and will strongly denounce anyone who attempts to oppose this president in violation of all accepted laws and ethical standards of our nation, and all jurisdictions within it. As well, nothing I offer should be construed as "legal advice," nor as encouragement to misrepresent the nature or scope any legal opposition to this president and his actions.

For those who request it, I can provide documentation of my qualifications as a trained Intelligence Specialist, minus any information that would place myself or anyone else close to me in any imminent danger. I am also willing to field any questions about events and activities currently being reported in the news with any insights I have garnered via my Intelligence training, but which does not reveal any methods or specific information that would be considered “classified” or “sensitive.” Little of the specifics of Donald Trump’s activities have a lot to do with the specific tasking I worked while in the NSA, but the methods of information acquisition and analysis are useful in gaining deeper understanding of the unique circumstances we now find ourselves facing.

My area of focus is not on protests, boycotts, or other traditional activities of advocacy and activism. It is my intention to offer information and instruction on how to identify, address, and directly support those in positions of authority who are engaged in activities aimed at mitigating the damage being done by the Trump presidency, and to help them to attempt to bring about a legal end to his presidency as soon as possible.

I am a disabled veteran, and as such, am sometimes unable to function at 100% efficiency. That is one of the reasons I am working towards establishing a career in the Arts—in addition to the fact that I absolutely love the process and joy of creating Art and Artistic projects. My advocacy arises from this love of creation. But, since I have periods where I am unable to function fully, I ask for your patience and indulgence as some things may take a little longer to accomplish. Health is precious commodity, and as I approach my 59th birthday, it is also increasingly rarified.

My wife and I run the Art website that this page is hosted on. We are both severely disabled, with myself suffering from PTSD, and my wife suffering from severe Bipolar Disorder. We are both fairly skilled creative people, and both love creating Art. I am a Writer, Visual Artist, and Musician. We look to use our creative skills as a vehicle for advocacy for the rest of our lives.

We are always open to new ideas and suggestions in general. However, if you are looking to issue threats or threatening criticism, you will be reported to the proper authorities. And be aware, I am exceptionally skilled at tracking people and information down on the Internet, so unless you are a professional at hiding your identity, I can likely find identifying information to offer to the authorities.

If you find the information and instruction on this page useful, PLEASE CONSIDER OFFERING YOUR SUPPORT BY ONE OF THE THREE METHODS AT THE BOTTOM OF THE PAGE. ANY DONATION, NO MATTER HOW SMALL, HELPS US TO MOVE FORWARD. It is my goal to go back to university for more formal art training, in the form of a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, but I have to establish economic stability first. Neither my wife nor I are lazy or self-entitled people. We simply need assistance to get a “leg-up” in our push towards eventually self-sufficiency. And, we live an ultra-modest lifestyle, we do not own expensive clothes, or other luxuries. We do not eat out often, and we don’t go to the movies or other activities at this point. Most of our non-routine expenses center around health needs, and special diets we have to adhere to because of health challenges, and to the equipment we use to create our art projects.

I thank for you for any assistance you might offer, and hope that you’ll share our information with as many other interested people as possible. I look forward to being able to share my skills and insights with as many people as possible, and I sincerely believe that anyone who visits this page with regularity will find something useful on it.
